Hiram W. Johnson Announces He Is G. O. P. Candidate

McAdoo Has Already Endorsed Statement That Supporters Seek to Nominate Him—Johnson Declares for Revitalized Republican Party and Says Coming Contest Must Decide Its Fate—Opposes League and Declares He Is Progressive—Silent On Bonus.

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Two presidential booms emanating from Chicago resound throughout the country today, with formal announcements that Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, that he is in the contest for nomination as Republican candidate for president and the endorsement from Omaha, Nebraska, by William Gibbs McAdoo, by David Starnes, of Ravenna, Ohio, that supporters of the former secretary of the treasury intend to nominate him in the Democratic national convention and elect him to the presidency.

Senator Johnson launched his boom with a formal statement, issued after a conference here with party leaders who favor his candidacy in which he asserted that he is in the contest for the presidency and enunciated the principles upon which his race will be made. He unexpected unequivocal opposition to the League of Nations, and all its subsidiaries, including the world court and set himself up as "progressive" candidate in contrast to the "ultra-conservative" and "ultra-radical."

Sounding his keynote in the statement that "the ensuing contest will determine whether the Republican party shall be the permanent insular party of reaction, or shall represent the best of the nation and its aspirations," Senator Johnson made this declaration: "Theoretically under our system the people themselves select their president. That states with presidential preference primaries not only recognize this theory but put it in practice. They preserve the spirit as well as the letter."

Former Crown Prince Swamped With Messages

(By The Associated Press) OELF, Nov. 16.—Telegrams welcoming him home and extending the best wishes for the future poured in upon former Crown Prince Frederick William at his estate here today.

The local telegraph bureau has been compelled to increase its staff to handle the dispatches, which come from all parts of Germany and from Holland, the majority being from members of the Hohenzollern family, friends and sympathizers.

Frederick William has sent a letter to the local authorities saying he has ordered the delivery of 200 pounds of potatoes, 500 pounds of breadstuffs and 100 pounds of beef from his estate for immediate distribution among the poor of Oelf.

L. B. CONWAY'S COUNTRY HOME RAZED BY FIRE

The handsome country home of L. B. Conway on the old Ferry road a few miles south of the city was totally destroyed by fire between 5:30 and 11 p. m. last night with an estimated loss of $24,000.

The ruddy glare of the blaze was seen by a number of Danville people but it did not become known that it was Lauree Cliff farm, as the Conway home was known, until this morning.

The home was one of the finest in this section being built for the Wilson family more than one hundred years ago and passing subsequently into the possession of Dr. Withers and becoming known as the "old Withers place."

The fire last night was discovered too late to be combatted though Mr. Conway had provided his home with chemical extinguishers. His two young sons had already gone to bed, the two daughters with Mr. Conway being up at the time. The first warning that anything was wrong came with sounds of objects falling in the kitchen and Mr. Conway hastening to that part of the house opened the kitchen and Mr. Conway hastening to fight blaze with cooking utensils at ready falling from shelves. Every effort was made to fight the fire, but it was soon realized that it had gained too great a start for flames were bursting through the roof of the kitchen. Neighbors hastened to the home and Mr. Conway with their aid succeeded in dragging out some pieces of furniture from the first floor. Valuables upstairs were hastily retrieved before the spread of the flames made access to the building impossible. It was not long before the beautiful old home was wreathed in flames and Mr. Conway was con-

CRIME WAVE CONTINUES

N. Y. IN THROES OF SERIES OF BOLD HOLD-UPS

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—New York's latest crime wave continued today when bandits smashed a plate glass window in the fashionable Fifth Avenue shop of Hickson, Inc., and escaped in an automobile with $50,000 worth of furs.

The fur robbers, which followed theft of a wagon load of silk from a livery stable on West Main 26th street, took place while four watchmen were in the store, which is on the corner of 32nd Street. The thieves sent two ash cans crashing through the window. The watchmen were unable to reach the street in time to get a description of either the bandits, or their car.

MORE SENSATIONAL ROBBERIES REPORTED

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Four armed men entered a livery stable in West 26th Street early today, bound and gagged John Gillen, the night hostler, after beating him into unconsciousness and escaped with a wagon load of silk.

While Fifth Avenue stores were disgorging thousands of shoppers and clerks yesterday afternoon two messengers of the Garfield Bank were compelled to admit two robbers into their taxi-cab and relinquish $740. The bandits held up the day cost a bandit a broken head, smashed by a baseball bat wielded by a boy who braved the robber's bullets. The robber had taken the cash receipts from a little candy store on the East Side and was fleeing when the youth arrested him. The bandit is dying in a hospital.

AUCTION MEN WIRE MEADE NOT TO SEEK INJUNCTION

James H. Wilson and C. D. Bryant, representatives of the Danville Warehouse Corporation and the Piedmont Warehouse Company, Inc., today wired to Julian Meade, their counsel now in Richmond not to appear for an injunction to restrain the Danville auction men today, if he had heard from the Danville men.

Mr. Meade was asked to stop proceedings if they have not gone too far, the further statement being made in the telegram that he would not accept as final the ruling that inspectors may not see the tickets on tobacco displayed at auction until after the sales and that the organization would contend that the tickets under the law could not enter any of the warehouses.

The only incident in the local tobacco auction today was the report, who stated to a reporter that James H. Wilson had stopped him on the street yesterday and told him that he could not enter any of the warehouses controlled by the Danville Warehouse Corporation and that if he did so he could be considered a trespasser.

No date has yet been set for the trial of the four warrants against the local warehouse companies in the Police court.

SWANSON REITERATES HIS SUPPORT OF WORLD COURT

Senator Claude A. Swanson has reiterated his endorsement of the plan announced by Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes for participation by the United States in the Permanent Court of International Justice, known as the World Court.

The letter to the Virginia senator was sent as result of a sermon preached last Sunday by Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector of Epiphany Church, in which he appealed to members of the church to write personal letters to President Coolidge and to the two Virginia senators and Congressmen Hooker asking them to support the World Court plan. Senator Swanson's letter is in reply to one sent by a member of the church congregation.

My reply will say I am in favor of the United States becoming a member of this Court and will do all I can to that end. I appreciate your writing me and am glad my stand in this matter accords with your views."

Charter Revisers Expect to Finish Work Next Week

The charter revision commission at its weekly meeting held last night swept the desks clear for a final meeting to be held next Thursday at which time action will be taken on outstanding suggestion, among them two deemed of the highest importance—the referendum question and the question of making the superintendent of public utilities elective by the council instead of by the people.

These two matters which have elicited lively public interest were approached last night and were discussed by members in the course of a brief executive session but no action was taken. In the case of the referendum, C. G. Holland, author of this suggestion was not at the meeting and out of courtesy to him it was decided to forego action until he can be heard from. The suggestion affecting the superintendent of utilities was passed by for the reason that only six members of the whole commission of nine were present. J. H. Ramsey, Herbert Martin with Mr. Holland being the absentees. The members present felt that a full commission should vote on these questions. Discussions of the charter changes last night revealed for the first time that certain interests in the city may move through legislative channels to enunciate if not actually defeat vital amendments, which have been written into the charter and some which may yet be included before the task of the commissioners is completed. It was brought to the attention of the commission that such a threat had been made by L. R. Fair to a friend of one of the commissioners who informed his conferees of the situation. The statement was made that the work of the charter commission would be completed on Thursday.

She was first married to Abraham Pruitt, of Pittsylvania county and to them were born six children two of whom are still living. They are John and Ezekiah Pruitt of Washington, D. C., and Thomas A'Herron, this city. She is survived by many grand-children, a number of great-grandchildren and also many great-great-grandchildren.

Mullins, president of the Baptist World Alliance, and by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. The report of the committee on the Baptist World Alliance, delivered by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Brown of the O. C. M. and an address by the Rev. Dr. J. It is this tomb that has been pointed out that time has effected many memories came to the aid of a man's buttonhole, while during the first years after the war a number of the unknown soldier's remains were found.

POSSE TRAILS MADMAN WHO KILLED FOUR

(By The Associated Press) KELLIEHER, Minn., Nov. 16.—A madman, slayer of four, is fleeing through the northwoods today before a posse formed here which took up the search at dawn.

Leonard Portano, 33, yesterday slew Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, of whose 15-year-old daughter, Myrtle, he was enamored. Oscar Timmer, 30, farmer and father of the girl, and J. A. Wilson, marshal of this village and deputy sheriff, who sought to arrest him.

The shooting took place at separate times, both in the morning and afternoon. Before fleeing, the murderer went to a timber cutting plant he operated and left a signed confession with a list of the dead.

Early yesterday Timmy and Portano engaged in an altercation over Myrtle Sanders, during which Portano shot Timmy through the leg. Timmy came to this village, had his wounds dressed and reported the case to Marshal Wilson.

While Timmy was gone, Portano went to the Sanders home and shot dead the mother of his sweetheart. Upon leaving the Sanders home, he met the girls father, took him to a nearby cabin, bound him to a bed post and shot his head off.

Near this village Portano met Marshal Wilson, who had left to arrest him for shooting Timmy, and encountered Timmy, who was going to the village to learn what had been done towards arresting Portano for wounding him, and again Portano's pistol fired a fatal bullet. Timmy falling dead in the highway.

Leonard Lea Shot While Hunting; May Lose One of Eyes

The condition of Leonard Lea wounded yesterday while hunting, was reported at the General hospital this afternoon as being much improved. The shot which struck him at a distance had peppered his face and injured one eye considerably. It is said that he may lose the sight of the injured eye.

Lea was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon by Van Buren Knick one of a party of hunters, on an expedition near Schoolfield.

The two men together with a number of others had held a covey of birds. The birds scattered and young Knick aimed at one flying low to the ground. He apparently did not notice that Lea was in line with his gun. He fired and a number of shots struck Lea in the face. One pierced his eye and another penetrated the nose.

The wounded man was immediately rushed to the hospital. News of the shooting reached the Schoolfield police department this morning but an inquiry revealed that he would take no action against the Knick, youth, as the shooting was entirely accidental, in their belief, according to the statements of those in the hunting party.

Committee Delves Further Into the Record of Walton

(By The Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16.—The Senate committee of impeachment delved further today into the pardon and parole record of Governor J. C. Walton, in hearing the charge that the executive abused his clemency powers by providing latitude for his political supporters and friends.

The board of prosecution announced it had additional evidence to show that attorneys in many instances collected thousands of dollars for obtaining pardons for their clients. Wholesale pardons and paroles were issued, it is charged, in some cases over the protests of county officials and numerous other individuals and before the convict had been convicted.

Ruhr Negotiations Are At Standstill

French and Industrialists Still Deadlocked Over Action for Continuation Industrial Activity.

(By The Associated Press.)
DUESSELDORF, Nov. 16.—Neither the French authorities nor the German industrialists have made any new move toward resumption of negotiations for continuation of industrial activity in the Ruhr arrangements between the French and German capitalists, so far as can be learned. Each side is apparently awaiting the other to make the first overture toward the breaking of the deadlock in the parleys resulting from the refusal of the Germans to accept some of the French conditions.

The Ruhr Mine Owners Association, according to the German press is discharging all its personal duties from today instead of from the end of November as was announced yesterday. The note states, however, that seventy per cent. of the mines will be taken back December 1, if meanwhile the negotiations with the French economic mission result in agreement. It is added that if the miners accept all the working conditions stipulated by the mine owners, including longer hours, thirty per cent. will be sent to unemployed Germany for emergency work on property controlled by the industrialists there.

Many Subjects Up At Bureau Inquiry

Probe Continues With Another Collection of Charges, Denials and Counter-Charges.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The sharp plow share of the Senate Veterans committee, driven forward again today through the affairs of former Director Charles R. Forbes, turned up another collection of charges, denials and counter-charges. With Forbes of the stand, under cross examination, the inquiry traversed a wide field of subjects, ranging from alleged drinking parties and pleasure trips. The former director continued to deny generally and specifically the accusations of misconduct that have been made against him.

The code which Elias E. Mortimer testified was arranged for the use of certain contracting firms and some officers of the Veterans Bureau figured largely today in the cross examination. Forbes reiterated his denial of any knowledge of such a code, which Mortimer had said was arranged during the Pacific coast trip of Forbes and his party in the summer of 1922 for the use of C. B. Hurley of the Hurley-Mason Company of Tacoma, J. W. Black, of the Black-Thompson Company of Chicago and others.

Hurley's name in the code, according to Mortimer, was "Hyder." John F. O'Ryan, general counsel for the investigating committee read a telegram sent from Tacoma on July 25, 1922 and signed "Hyder." As translated it read as follows:

"Wish to leave from Alaska 30th. return about tenth. Will absence interfere? Ask Forbes."

Two postal cards signed "Hyder" then were offered. Both were addressed to Mortimer in Washington. They were of a personal nature and referred to fishing trips in British Columbia and Oregon.

Denying that he had ever sent any messages to Hurley in code, Forbes said all the messages that went out from him were signed by "Charles R. Forbes" and "were in the clear." The witness said he could not explain explanation if copies of his communications to Hurley are not in the bureau files.

Bishops Favor League Nations

(By The Associated Press.)
DALLAS, Nov. 15.—It is the "immediate and imperative duty" of the United States government, either to join the existing League of Nations, "or to proceed immediately to organize some other effective association or council of nations," the House of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church U. S. A. declared in a resolution adopted.

The action was requested of President Coolidge, Secretary Hughes and the chairman of the Foreign Affairs committee of the United States Senate for the purpose of settling amicably international disputes and thus save us from the great danger of another world war.

Denial was made today that controversy engendered by Rev. Percy Stockney Grant or any other, priest of the church had inspired the declaration of creed last night, which was a reaffirmation of the literalness of the church's expressed belief including the virgin birth of Christ. It was learned today that the bishop had adopted a supplementary resolution in which the utterances of Bishop William Lawrence, of Massachusetts were declared the motivating influence for the adoption of the declaration.

The resolution for abolition of war stated that the house of bishops was impressed "With the serious and sinister condition of the nations in their relations with each other" and the church "cannot permit war to remain the only method for the ultimate settlement of disputes between nations."

Particular attention was devoted to the promotion of trade and settlement within the empire upon which the well being of my people so largely depends at this time. I am convinced that meetings of this kind are of the highest value in promoting a spirit of mutual co-operation amongst my people at home and overseas."

"Members of the House of Commons, I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service."

Despite all efforts of my government to stimulate trade and all the circumstances of large numbers of our fellow citizens still remain deplorable."

"My ministers are convinced that unless measures for the safeguarding and development of home markets are adopted no permanent improvement in their situation can be expected."

FIERY POLITICAL FIGHT IN GREAT BRITAIN EXPECTED

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 16.—It is predicted that the coming election will be one of the fiercest political fights seen in Great Britain in modern times.

The opposition parties feel they have a deep grievance against the prime minister for "playing a confidence-trick upon the public," in concealing his intentions and forcing an unnecessary election. Mr. Baldwin's supporters resent this and warmly defend his honesty of purpose.

Labor admits itself short of funds and attribute its poverty to the fact that "unemployment and underpayment have emptied the pockets of the workers."

Its chief woman organizer, Dr. Marion Phillips, says this election represents a "daring example of the class struggle of rich against the poor. The decision of the laborites to adhere to capital levy as the feature of their campaign is welcome to the other parties. Labor it is predicted, will suffer from its refusal to make any arrangement with the liberals with a view to avoiding split votes."

Mr. Lloyd George's gibe in the House of Commons yesterday that the ministers were going to the country with ink cans tied to their tails to ask a blank check—an allusion to the proposed preference duty on canned salmon—has taken the fancy of the liberal press.

The failure of the plans to bring Austen Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead in the government ranks is deplored by those conservatives who think the loss of these statesmen will prove a great injury to the party's cause. The incident, in fact, is frequently referred to as a split in the Tory ranks.

Letters which have passed between Mr. Baldwin, J. Austen Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead show that the inclusion of Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead in the cabinet was found to be impossible because they were "unwelcome to some of those on whose support the premier is obliged to rely."

Both Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead nevertheless promised to support the government in the campaign.

England and France Far from Agreement

Indications Are Countries Are Approaching a Parting of Ways on Question of How to Deal With Germany—France's Plans Are Far From Acceptable to Great Britain.

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 16.—Indications are multiplying that England and France are approaching the parting of the ways on the question of how to deal with Germany.

France's threatened penalties against Germany, if Berlin does not recede from its position on the extradition of the former Crown Prince and the re-establishment of full armed military control in Germany are declared in government quarters here to be wholly unacceptable to England.

These penalties are understood to be:

First, the seizure of more railroads east of the occupied area, which would probably include the eventual occupation of Frankfurt by the French.

Second, consolidation and extension of the Franco-Belgian military position in the Ruhr.

Third, the occupation of Hamburg and Bremen. Paris dispatches today said high officials of the French foreign office declared they knew nothing of any plan for French occupation of Hamburg and the ground for this disclaimer would seem also to exclude Bremen.

Great Britain holds that all these threatened sanctions not only violate the treaty of Versailles but would plunge Germany into a deeper economic and political mire from which it would be impossible to extricate her.

Chinese Business Men Seek to Trade With Russia Again

TOKIO, Nov. 16.—The cabinet is being pressed again by business interests to resume negotiations with Russia looking toward a resumption of trade and possibly diplomatic relations between that country and Japan.

The pressure is being brought in the belief that valuable concessions in Siberia are obtainable by Japan and that opportunities for trade are unusually bright. The government, it is believed, is likely to yield to the pressure as prospects for an understanding with the soviet government appear better than at the previous conferences concluded last summer.

Hix Takes Firm Stand Against Railway Strikers

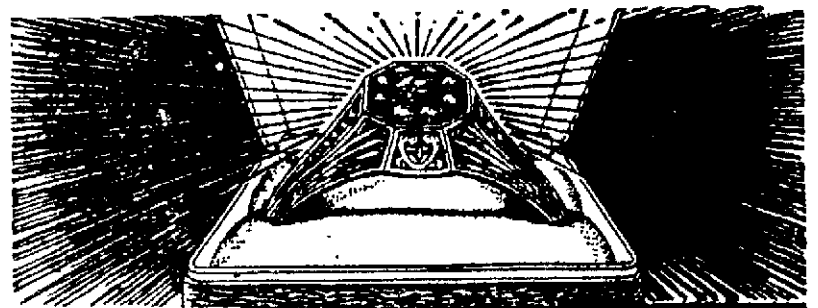

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—An uncompromising attitude was adopted today by C. H. Hix, vice president of the Virginian Railway, who, before the United States Railroad Labor Board informed representatives of the striking engineers and firemen that he could not comply with the suggestion of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board, that the disputants get together and settle their grievances.

Mr. Hix declared the men's grievances were not sufficient basis for a strike and that many new men had been employed and others were on the waiting list and it would not be fair to turn out these new men for the old employees, who, he said, had sacrificed their standing with the company.

MANY CONVINCED THAT THEIR PLANS WILL SECURE PEACE

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Nationalists of 22 countries—men and women of all degrees—believe they know how to hold the world in peace. It was disclosed tonight when the American Peace award announced the close of the contest for the $100,000 prize offered by Edward W. Bok. Those who submitted plans before the contest closed at midnight ran into many hundreds.

Members of the peace committee estimated that at least one fourth of the entrants were women, as that number was indicated in the requests for contest conditions issued shortly after the prize was announced. The contestants, however, and their ideas and countries will not be known until an award has been made.

Twenty-one foreign countries are represented as indicated by the postmark on plans received, in spite of the fact that the committee published far and wide the fact that Americans only were eligible.

Plans have been coming in steadily since last July, when Mr. Bok announced his prize for the "best practicable plan by which the United States may cooperate with other nations to achieve and preserve the peace of the world."

Conditions of the award were distributed to 200,000 individuals, endorsed at numerous conventions and circulated by a cooperating council of 88 national associations with a combined membership of 43,000,000.

There are 22,105 persons in the world who believe they know how to end wars and there are scattered in 22 different nations. Men and women from widely varying walks of life submitted remedies which they believe would end conflicts between nations.

BRITISH TARIFF TO HIT TOBACCO INTERESTS

WINCHESTER, Va., Nov. 15.—The contemplated tariff between Great Britain and her colonies, understood to have been urged by Canada and Nova Scotia at the recent dominion conference in London would not only affect apples but tobacco as well, according to information received here today from authoritative sources.

State Senator H. F. Boyd, who earlier this year took up the apple phase of the situation with United States Senator Claude A. Swanson, today received word from Senator Swanson that nothing will be done by the British Parliament until after the elections in England in December.

However, Senator Swanson said, "as this matter highly affects Virginia I have been giving it attention and doing all possible to get what influence it properly can." Senator Swanson said he would continue to give the matter his attention and best efforts.

the late George Pullman himself. Here's his recipe for:

Puree of Lentils
Boil two cups of dry lentils in three cups of water until soft. Mash through Chinese strainer. Same water. Add one teaspoon butter, one cup cream, some salt and pepper and a few drops of Maggi sauce.

Cook 1 E Burre, from the Philadelphia commissary, offers these two:

Popovers
Two cups flour, 1 quart milk, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 6 eggs.

Beat up eggs, mix in flour milk and salt and beat well. This will make twelve popovers.

Cinnamon Buns.
One quart milk, 2 quarts flour, 1 cake yeast, 1/2 box raisins, 1 tablespoonful ginger, 1/2 teaspoonful nutmeg, 1/2 cup molasses, 1/2 cup brown sugar.

Make sponge as for bread. After it rises roll out, spread of raisins, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, brown sugar and butter. Roll up and cut in slices about 1 inch thick. Bake in moderate oven.

Now look over these recipes offered by Chef R. E. Harris:

Crab Gumbo, Southern Style
One-half pound ham, 2 medium size onions, 1 large green pepper, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 1 quart okra (fresh), 1/2 cup butter, 1 medium size crab, salt, pepper and paprika to taste.

Clean the crabs by pulling the backs off, remove the "dead men" and break in four parts. Wash well and lay on clean towel to dry. While crabs are drying, chop onions and green peppers in small pieces, also okra. Braze the ham over a slow fire.

As it turns a golden brown add onions, green peppers, garlic tomatoes and lastly the okra. Then add 1 1/2 quarts of hot stock to the pot. Let it simmer about 15 minutes. Lastly add the crabs and let simmer over a slow fire 1 1/2 hours. While that is cooking, prepare one cup of well-washed rice, plain boiled. When serving, place tablespoon of rice in center of plate and pour gumbo all around with piece of crab on each side of rice.

The following recipe is out of sea-tive jurors interrogated, just one said he was a dry. The remainder admitted they took an occasional nip, believed in it, enjoyed it, and wished the Volstead law were off the books. They all said, however, that they believed in law enforcement, and would be true to their oaths.

Judge Evans sprung a surprise when he announced that, contrary to all former custom in such important cases, the jury would not be isolated during the trial. He told them they not only could go about their business outside of court hours but that they could go where they pleased during recesses.

The trial is expected to last a week, or more.

BACK AGED SO TERRIBLY
Kentucky Lady Was in Great Suffering, but, Thanks to Husband's Insistence, She Took Cardui and Got Well.

CLINTON, Ky.—Mrs. Della Cook, of Clinton, after her recent experiences with Cardui says that nothing else has ever done her so much good and that she has never found anything to take the place of Cardui.

"Before the birth of my little girl," states Mrs. Cook, "I was down with my back and sides. My husband had to turn me in the bed. I suffered so much with the backache."

"I tried medicines I don't know just how I hurt, my back felt like it was just burning together and pulling. I felt I could stand this and my husband wanted me to get Cardui and I did."

"After one bottle I was better and after two bottles I was up, able to do my work. I took six bottles and I have never had anything to do me so much good."

"I have taken Cardui twice since for run-down, tired feeling and it always does me good, especially for the backache. I have never found anything that takes the place of Cardui."

Cardui helps to relax, gently and naturally, many symptoms of female trouble, as in the above case.

M'ADOO FOR BONUS AND TAX REVISION

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury in President Wilson's cabinet, is convinced that the federal government can both reduce federal taxation and provide soldiers compensation, equivalent to a bonus, he declared in a statement made public today.

The statement, which was made at the telegraphic request of the Literary Digest, in which it will be published next week, added that "the bonus question should long ago have been taken out of politics and in no circumstances should be used for political advantage."

"We can have a tax reduction and do justice to the American soldier as well," Mr. McAdoo says, "by treating adjusted compensation as a part of the war cost and funding it through issue of 50-year bonds. The interest and sinking fund charge should not exceed eight to ninety million dollars per annum. This would not prevent a reduction in taxes."

The man who served in the trenches got $110 per day, those in the reserves in America got $100 per day. If the American people believe that it was worth $237 per day to serve in the trenches and $200 per day to serve in the reserves in America, then the difference between these rates and what the soldiers already have received is an act of justice.

We give more than 300,000 civil employees of the government during the war a bonus of $240 per annum and this has continued for more than five years. Is it less right to give the men who fought the war equal consideration? Justice must never be measured only in righteousness and humanity."

The statement was given in answer to a request for Mr. McAdoo's view in regard to Secretary Mellon's statement to the soldier bonus and tax revision.

STOCKHOLDERS OF PRODUCTS AGREE TO 99-YR. LEASE

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—Stockholders of the Tobacco Products Corporation at a meeting here today ratified the sale of the manufacturing assets of the corporation and its subsidiaries and the lease for ninety-nine years of its tobacco brands to the American Tobacco Company. Under the terms of the agreement, reached in New York on October 25, all of the domestic manufacturing business of the Tobacco Products Corporation passes to the American Tobacco Company. It does not, however, effect the corporations export business or the ownership of the Tobacco Products Corporation, Stepano Brothers and the United Retail Stores Corporation.

Subsidiaries of the Tobacco Products Corporation which passed to the control of the American Tobacco Company were the Falc Tobacco Company, M. Melachrine Company, Schinasi Brothers, Inc., the Surbrug Company, Nestor Giamacis Company, Khodivai Company, Presidential Tobacco Company and John J. Bagley and company.

The American Tobacco Company is to pay $2,500,000 annually for the use of the corporations brands of cigarettes, smoking and chewing tobacco, together with the good will and formula. Payment for the manufacturing assets is to be at book value on November 1. This is estimated at $11,000,000.

LYNCHBURG MAN DIES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Johannes Suhling, president of the Suhling Tobacco Company of Lynchburg, Va., was stricken with apoplexy yesterday at the Northern Lloyd Hotel, Hoboken, just after he had left the steamship Muenchen, which had docked from Bremen about an hour before. Mr. Suhling was carried back onto the ship, where he died. Mr. Suhling was born in Germany on Nov. 8, 1865. He had been in the United States for thirty years. He is survived by his widow, who lives at Lynchburg. He had not been ill on the trip from Germany, it was said.

Missions Subject at Baptist Meet in Richmond, Va.

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—Missions—the beginning, struggles and accomplishments of the evangelical movement in Virginia and the state's dominant part there—occupied the session of the Baptist General Association of Virginia here tonight. Addresses by Dr. John F. Vines, pastor of the First Church of Roanoke, on "home missions," and by Dr. George W. McDaniel, of Richmond, on "foreign missions," provided the features which inspired the 4,000 messengers and visitors who filled the city auditorium.

Bluefield, W. Va., where Virginia Baptists have built and now support a school for boys, was chosen as the place for the 1924 session of the association at this afternoon's meeting, when also the convention adopted a budget of $1,500,000 for 1925. The cause of the aged ministers and the Southern Baptist convention's plan for "adjusted compensation" for veteran preachers was presented by Dr. J. L. Rosser, Bristol pastor.

The association, which is celebrating its centennial of organization, will conclude its meetings tomorrow night after business sessions and addresses by Dr. H. W. Battle of Charlottesville in the morning, and Dr. E. Y. Mulling, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Louisville, Kentucky, and others, at the final session.

The chief foes of home missions "the advance of Christianity in the world today," Dr. Vines declared, "are the peril of prosperity, the plague of lawlessness, and religious 'shams.'" After visiting fifteen foreign countries from which he had just returned, the speaker said, "I am convinced that this country faces the same dangers which caused other countries to sink and decay."

"The future of the home mission board," said Dr. Vines, "is the supreme work of building up the waste places, the tarring of the south for the sake of America, that America might save the world."

Picturing the work and the vision of the early Baptist leaders in Virginia, the speaker discovered the realization of these prophetic dreams in the accomplishments of the era. Dr. McDaniel, who is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Richmond, recounted the deeds, problems and progress of the denominational leaders in the period before 1823, which he called the "period of beginnings," the struggles of the period of opposition, 1823 to 1845, and Baptist activities in the "period of development" between 1845 to 1860. The growth of the foreign mission work from a small beginning was portrayed in accurate and interesting detail.

The years following the war between the state he termed the "period of adversity" when the "havoc of war was followed by the hell of reconstruction." During this time foreign missions saved the life of the Southern Baptist convention, Mr. McDaniel declared.

The present "period of prosperity," he said, beginning in 1879 when Virginia was "rising from the ashes of war" found the Old Dominion leading her sister southern state in contributions to foreign missions in half of the forty-three years. Compared to the present time, the speaker said:

"That which is nearest may lack appreciation. Compare our achievements for foreign missions in the past four years with all Virginia Baptists did in all their previous history and you will be surprised, gratified and heartened. All they gave prior to the seventy-five million campaign was $1,177,745.48. That is, they gave in the four years from November, 1919, to November, 1923, sixty-four per cent, as much as they gave in the one hundred and seventeen years before 1919. Better than money is life, of an incalculable more value than contributions to foreign missions are the lives surrendered to foreign service. Since 1819 sixty-nine native Virginia Baptists have made that offering. Scores of our young people are now training to follow them."

"The Virginia Baptist women have an unsurpassed record on foreign missions."

STEADY EXPANSION IN GENERAL BUSINESS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—Department store, clothing and shoe dealers have experienced a steady expansion of business this week and sales so far this month are running 15 to 20 per cent. ahead of last year. The greatest improvement is shown in clothing and shoes. The chief sellers are women's garments, millinery, cloaks, gloves and underwear. Sales of jewelry and holiday goods are beginning to show improvement but furniture and rugs have dropped off slightly. In wholesale lines, holiday goods, drugs, groceries and hardware are moving best. Collections are good.

UNION LEADERS FARMERS' ALLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Members of congress allied with the farm bloc and the progressive bloc were taken into conference today by executives of the sixteen railroad labor organizations who are meeting here to discuss legislative programs. While no direct conclusions were announced the union leaders later intended in the future to work politically in association with farm organizations as they have in the past. The conference of union chiefs probably will continue until tomorrow night. Proposed amendments to the Transportation act which would have the effect of abolishing the Railroad Labor Board have been under discussion, but it was indicated today that no announcement of support for such a step would be made until union leaders had consulted with their various organizations.

It knocks out the dangerous toxic poisons and frees the system from pollution! Try Kellogg's Bran for a week. Eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls each day; as much each meal in chronic cases. You will be astounded at the difference in your feelings! Kellogg's Bran should not be con-fixed with common bran which is unpalatable and difficult to eat. Kellogg's Bran is cooked and all ready to serve and really delicious. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal or cook or mix it with hot cereal. In the latter cases add two tablespoonfuls for each person. Do you realize what Kellogg's Bran can do for you and for your family; do you realize that it will keep sickness away; that it will put every one on a new health footing; that it will free you all from pills and cathartics? Kellogg's Bran is particularly delightful made in raisin bread, in macaroons, popovers, muffins, etc. Recipes are printed on each package! You will say that Kellogg's Bran is a blessing to humanity. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran!

JAPAN SEEKS A TREATY WITH U. S. ON LAND ISSUE

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—As a result of the supreme court decision upholding the Pacific Coast anti-alien land laws Japan shortly will seek to negotiate a treaty with the United States conferring on Japanese the right to own and lease land in this country.

At the same time and also in consequence of the supreme court decision the Pacific coast delegations in Congress will demand immigration legislation barring from America any person not eligible to American citizenship. Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, stated at the White House today that a conference of the Pacific coast delegations would be called soon to take a course of action on this question.

There is pending before the supreme court another case involving the constitutionality of a California law which prohibits an ineligible alien from owning stock in a domestic corporation chartered under the laws of the state. It is claimed by the Japanese that the court will uphold the constitutionality of the law.

It was the opinion of the court in the Washington case which has encouraged Senator Shortridge and his associates to make their drive against further admission of Japanese and Chinese as immigrants. Until the court had acted, the west coast interests hostile because of purely local considerations, the Japanese, did not feel that it would be safe to carry out their immigration proposal to Congress.

In many quarters there is a demand that the existing immigration law be overhauled during the coming year. The operation of the quota system has proved to be unfortunate in many instances. Then, too, the farmers of the middle west, as shown by the Meyer-Randall report, are lifting to admit more of the desirable farming element. Many industrialists are clamoring for more cheap labor from Europe.

If these local interests succeed in reopening the immigration question the west coast senators and congressmen designed to exclude all aliens ineligible to citizenship. Because the Chinese have been excluded already such an amendment would operate almost wholly against the Japanese although they would not be referred to by name.

Senator Shortridge stated today that he and his colleague Senator Hiram Johnson would confer as soon as the latter reaches Washington and that a conference of Pacific coast delegations would doubtless be called to deal with the immigration question a few days before the congressional session begins.

No official statement has come either from Tokyo or from the Japanese embassy here regarding the next move of the Japanese government, but it is well understood in official circles that the Japanese government is deeply concerned not only over the action of the supreme court last Monday, but over the possibility that the California statute likewise will be found to be constitutional.

If these local laws are finally validated by the supreme court Japanese nationalists in those states where the laws are in effect will not only be deprived of taking title to land, but may not own stock in a corporation. This in effect would confine their economic status almost wholly to that of common laborers.

Ambassador Hanhara is expected to open up the whole question of Japanese exclusion and restraints upon Japanese subjects with the State Department. At the time he was sent to Washington as head of his mission it was generally understood that he would make an early opportunity to discuss the whole Japanese issue with this government.

He was deferred from acting earlier in the matter, it is said, because of the litigation before the supreme court. The Japanese did not know where they stood as long as the court deliberated upon the land ownership issue raised in the suit of Washington. And it is still to be decided whether the California enactment is to stand a constitutional test.

But once the California law is passed upon, if not before, Mr. Hanhara will probably begin conversations with Secretary Hughes for an agreement which will afford Japanese nationals the rights denied by the supreme court decision.

DR. CHAS. MINOR NAMED HEAD OF MEDICAL ASS'N

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Delegates to the Southern Medical Association concluded their annual convention here today with a visit to President Coolidge and the election of officers.

At the White House the formalities of handshaking were dispensed with and President Coolidge spoke briefly.

Dr. Charles L. Minor, of Asheville, N. C., was elected president.

The following tribute to former President Wilson was adopted unanimously:

"We, the members of the Southern Medical Association, in meeting assembled here today, express the love and homage of our hearts for that great statesman and our patriot, Woodrow Wilson, the greatest exponent of democracy and the noblest champion of humanitarianism in the world today."

Visits to President Wilson and Charlotteville, Va., were made on Monday and Saturday, respectively. Many of the delegates to the convention came from the South.

Ford Motor cars were on display at the convention.

This Little World

By MILTON BRONNER
LONDON, Nov. 16.—London, largest city in the world, has one thing that even small towns in America wouldn't allow for a minute—the pavement artist.

Along the Thames Embankment on a main street, the "pavement artist" slips down on the sidewalk. He draws crude pictures on the stone flagging—orange earsets, purple-green trees, pink elephants and red tigers. Also pictures of prominent men.

Having drawn or painted these things, he flops a cap on the sidewalk and sits there hour after hour waiting for the pennies to come. Sometimes the artist is an able-bodied man who claims he can't work, which is not improbable with over one million jobless in Britain. Most often the artist is crippled. They are never molested, and the average Londoner takes it quite as a matter of course.

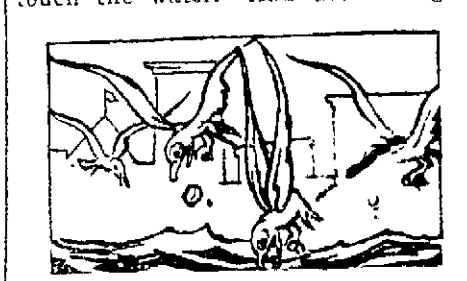

Police Sergeant in Blackpool, northern England's Coney Island, says there are seven tests which reveal whether any man is drunk or not:

- 1—Make him tell his correct name and address.
- 2—Make him walk on a line.
- 3—Make him touch a spot on the wall. Make him touch his nose with his left hand and then with the right. 5—Make him touch his nose with his eyes closed. 6—Get him to say, "Rural." 7—Ask him to pick up a pin.

We know autumn is morning into winter here in London, for the gulls have come. They swarm along the Thames Embankment and on the lake in St. James Park. They fight like mad for any bit of food that is thrown away.

There are people who pass an idle hour peering into the Thames for the pleasure of watching these birds catch the morsels before they touch the water. And their hunger is never appeased. Indeed, they have been described as stomachs on wings. They are to be found in the most unlikely places.

For instance, I remember the surprise of people from seacoast lands when they attended the first Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva. Here on this lake in the heart of the continent, surrounded by the Alps and hundreds of sea-gulls, they make their summer homes in the polar regions, and spend their winters in Switzerland.

STRESEMANN MAY BE FORCED TO RESIGN HIS POST

By JOHN CLAYTON.
(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Chancellor Stresemann probably will be forced to resign and turn over his power to General Von Seeckt.

Herr Stresemann's hesitating action yesterday with regard to an autonomous Rhineland has compromised him anew with the Socialists and Catholics which form the real backbone of his strength. The Socialists intend to bring in a lack of confidence motion against the government when President Loeb calls the reichstag together on Tuesday, criticizing not only his action towards Bavaria but his preparations for the formation of a Rhineland republic within the nation.

Should the Socialists succeed in putting out the government, it will leave the power entirely in the hands of the commander of the Reichswehr. To date General von Seeckt has made rather a muddle of his dictatorship, his first severe action taken against the striking printers having failed to get any results, but he is the only man in sight to take hold of the reins of government.

Dr. Brauns, minister of labor who has held that post for three years and who was one of the powers in war organization work, probably will be named new chancellor to form a cabinet. He is a member of the "right" party, was educated for military orders and was ordained a priest.

Dr. Brauns, if he is named, will be a dummy for General Von Seeckt. He is fifty-five years old. Negotiations have been going on between Right Wing leaders and Herr Hoecke, who is a parliamentary socialist but not a theoretic. It is believed here today that Herr Hoecke will be able to find a common ground with the Right Wing parties.

DECREASE IN LOADINGS

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—There were 1,035,774 railroad cars loaded with revenue freight during the week ending November 3, the American Railway Association reported today. This was a decrease of 28,159 cars under the loadings for the previous week but 35,925 cars more than loaded during the same week last year. It made the 20th week of the current in which the loadings have been in excess of a million cars.

MENIHAN'S ARCH-AID SHOES

A Profitable Half Hour

A LADY who had experienced the preliminary symptoms of falling arches came into our store. "I'm discouraged," she told us, "my feet get so tired I know I should do something for them, but the 'health' shoes I've tried on have so little style!" In half-an-hour we had made a study of her feet, fitted her in a handsome pair of Menihan's Arch-Aid shoes and made a permanent record for future orders. Now she says—"That was a very profitable half hour to me."

Pardon Scandal Of Gov. Walton

(By The Associated Press.)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 15.—The impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton passed slowly through the opening day of the prosecution's effort to substantiate the charge that the executive abused his pardon and parole powers.

Frequently interrupted by argument of counsel during which witnesses on the stand long intervals without being questioned, and by frequent questions from members of the court, little progress was made in presenting the purpose of account of Governor Walton's clemency record.

Much of the day was devoted to bringing out the details of an alleged agreement between Guy Sigler, state representative from Carter county, and Pearl Hicks, of Beckham county, Oklahoma, who were convicted of a bogus check charge. T. M. Lowery, court clerk of Beckham county, identified a certified copy of a contract by which Sigler was to receive $2,500, the appeal bond which the prisoner had made in return for obtaining a pardon within sixty days. The witness also testified he paid the money to Sigler's agent, H. H. Diskins, June 28.

Aldrich Blake, former executive counsel, testified that Governor Walton had information that Sigler would get $1,000 for obtaining a pardon for Hicks. The prosecution also introduced testimony bearing on the case of P. T. Wheeler, who was convicted of possessing liquor in Carter county, and who presented a pardon to the court when sentenced to the penitentiary. Fred Lareu, court attorney of Custer, on cross examination said a number of letters had been written to the governor by representative men of the county urging clemency for Wheeler. Late in the day, the prosecution took up a pardon granted to Jess Little, alleged notorious outlaw which was issued just before Governor Walton was suspended. The pardon was annulled by acting Governor M. E. Trapp and Little is serving a life sentence for murder. Since the pardon was issued, two additional murder charges have been filed against Little which have been held in abeyance when the original charge was brought. The prosecution contended that the governor knew the two other charges had not been filed and that in issuing the pardon he had attempted to absolve Little of responsibility in the three cases.

The case was under discussion when court adjourned. Counsel for the defense announced today that a subpoena had been issued for N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan of Oklahoma ordering him to bring before court complete records of the Klan including the entire Oklahoma membership roll.

LEFT SHOP WORK TAKE STATE JOB

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—That to continue at work in the shops of the Virginian Railway during the shopmen's strike of 1920 would have ruined Boyd E. Chambers, state factory inspector of West Virginia, politically, was part of his testimony at the hearing of the Virginian Railway strike dispute, here today. Mr. Chambers, who is from Princeton, West Virginia, told the United States Railroad Labor Board that he had made that point clear to his supervisors before he left his work as shop foreman, with the intention of returning to his former work in the engine service of the company.

Mr. Chambers is one of twelve former employees of the railroad for whom reinstatement is asked by striking lodges of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. The employees offered testimony in refutation of the charges position that Mr. Chambers and others forfeited seniority rights in engine service by failure to give proper notice when they left the shop service to which they had been assigned.

Says—Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases.

Yes; it's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty, knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube. Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint Ease: They call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, stinks—prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint Ease is for latherous joints, whether in neck, arm, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

All druggists have a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand.—adv.

GIRL LOSES SUIT AGAINST RICH MAN

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Miss Olga Ralph, a music student from Evansville, Indiana, has lost her suit for $4,000 against John H. Kirby, president of the Southern Railway Association and head of one of the largest lumber companies in Texas, whom she accused of in an action filed last March with failure to fulfill an alleged engagement to pay her $500 a month.

Supreme Court Justice McCook, ruled yesterday that Miss Ralph's allegations were not supported by testimony.

Miss Ralph charged that Kirby agreed in 1918 that if she would travel with him as his secretary and companion he would "take care of her," for life. Also at his request, she alleged, she had her name changed to Olga Kirby. In March 1922 she alleged she agreed to again to assume the name of Ralph and release certain papers and documents to Kirby in exchange for $5,000 in cash and his agreement to pay her $500 monthly for life. Her suit alleged that Kirby had made but one $500 payment.

Justice McCook held that none of her allegations had been sustained.

Profligate was charging so hard when the armistice was signed they haven't been able to stop yet.

NEAR EAST RELIEF PLANS "GOLDEN RULE DAY" FOR WORLD

Sunday Dec. 2nd will be Observed by Fourteen Nations to aid Near East Orphans

Chas. V. Vickrey, President of the International Near East Association, which sponsors Golden Rule Day.

Golden Rule, as an expression on international fellowship and good will and as a source of food supply for the homeless and the starving, an International Golden Rule Dinner is proposed for Sunday, December 2nd.

"On this day all persons who are disposed to make practical application of the Golden Rule are requested to provide for their Sunday dinner the same menu as that approved and used for at least 50,000 orphans in the Near East every day. Of course, in American homes there need be no limitation of quantity as there must, of necessity, be in the Near East orphanages where not a scrap of food is ever wasted."

The difference between the cost of the usual Sunday dinner and the simpler, less expensive orphanage menu is to be made as a contribution and thank offering for the purchase of food for the orphans of the Near East. In this country people observing the Golden Rule Sunday will send their contribution to the Near East Relief headquarters in New York City and other nations will co-operate on the same day by sending in their contributions through their own national organizations.

Details as to the proper sort of menu to serve on Golden Rule Day may be obtained by writing to National Headquarters of the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or to the nearest state office.

Writ of Ejection Issued by Judge In Fretwell Case

Under a ruling of Judge Withers in the Corporation court today, Julian Fretwell must vacate the apartment he has rented from J. W. Via for some months and whose contract regarding rental has been an issue before the court recently. Mr. Fretwell was granted sixty days to note an appeal to the Supreme court on the question of the right of possession and the time expired, it is alleged, without the papers being filed. They are however, now in the hands of the Supreme court. The question of granting Mr. Fretwell a further extension of time to obtain a decision from the Supreme court came up before Judge Withers today and he held that he had not the right to grant a further extension. Mr. Fretwell, however, asked Judge Withers a short period or until half past two o'clock this afternoon to cite the court to cases bearing on the contention that his client is entitled to a further stay of execution. When court adjourned for dinner Jesse W. Benton, attorney for Mr. Via said he would be on hand at 2:30 and if the court finally determined not to allow a further stay of execution he would ask for a writ of possession and would make it the hands of the city sergeant for immediate service which would mean the removal of Mr. Fretwell from the premises this afternoon. City Sergeant Boisseau, however, said that he would serve the writ tomorrow morning and in this afternoon Judge Withers read a citation offered by Mr. Custer and refused a further extension. Judge Withers left the execution of the warrant discretionary with the city sergeant who decided to execute the paper tomorrow. Then Mr. Boisseau decided to serve the papers this afternoon whereupon Mr. Custer sought to dissuade him. In the meantime Mr. Benton appealed to Constable R. M. Foster and gave him the writ to be served this evening.

Says Ex-Crown Prince Is Only Private Citizen

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 16.—While the Ambassador's council was in conference yesterday the German chargé d'affaires, Dr. Von Hoesch, called at the foreign office by order of his government to inform De Petiti De La Rocca, director of political affairs, exactly what had been done with regard to the former German Crown Prince.
Frederick William, Dr. Von Hoesch declared, had repeatedly applied for permission to return to Germany and in October the cabinet which then included the Socialists, saw no reason to refuse his request in view of the fact that he had renounced all rights to the crown and how he had renounced them but the German charge could not remember He added, however, that under the circumstances Frederick William was so far as the German authorities were concerned, an ordinary citizen.
He had formally undertaken to remain at Oels, said Dr. Von Hoesch, and participate in no way in political events in Bavaria had nothing to do with his return. He had already received a passport and had made all arrangements to leave Holland before the Munich incidents. It was merely an "unfortunate coincidence" that he left on that date.
As to the former German emperor, Dr. Von Hoesch declared that according to German official information, it was not true that he planned to leave Doorn. In any case Wilhelm knew nothing whatever about his intention in this respect.
Mr. De Petiti and De La Rocca immediately transmitted Premier Poincare Dr. Hoesch's statement.

EX-CROWN PRINCE SAYS HE'S HAPPY TO BE BACK NOW

(By EUGENE SZATMARY
(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
OELS, Silesia, Nov. 15.—"I am happy to be back in my country and to be back with my wife and family on my estate," said the former German Crown Prince Frederick William said in an interview here today.
"I am happy to be able to live among my countrymen and to carry on the business that have assigned to me," he continued.
"I am glad to greet my old friends and my new friends. I intend to devote myself to my own personal duties with in the limits of my own estate of work and duties and I intend to collaborate in the reconstruction of my nation in whose recovery I have never doubted."
The Prince has not changed in face or figure with only the difference that he has grown older. His figure is still straight and elastic and one still recognizes him as a man accustomed to sports even as he has grown a little stouter. Despite the fact that his face is bronzed he still retains his clear cut profile. His hair is absolutely gray although he is only forty-one years old.
When I interviewed him, Frederick William was wearing a gray overcoat, breeches and a long riding jacket. His voice has grown deeper and he talks slower. He definitely has lost a great part of his old-time vivacity and has grown old.
The prince said he has been home since for Germany for many years, but he wanted to wait a time when he could return to his country without causing it further difficulties or complications. After the German government granted him official permission to return he was forced to prepare quickly and unobtrusively as possible. This corresponded to his own desire and to that of the German government.

Hira mW. Johnson Announces He Is G. D. P. Candidate

of American institutions. It is an American's birthright to submit himself to a political test to the decision of his fellow citizens. He is entitled to their decision and they are entitled to make it. I recognize no prescriptive right to office and I deny that any one or any number of men may disregard the popular will and in defiance of it, dictate our candidate. Peculiarly should this be so at the present time."

Discontent is abroad in the land and there is threatened disintegration of the Republican party. He said, the discontent and party difficulties arising from lack of popular government.

"Two warring philosophies of government struggle for mastery," designate them as you will, the contest between them is age-old. The only ultra-conservative, materialistic, stolidly and stubbornly resisting any change and vigorously contesting every human advance, invites an ultra-radicalism. The other, mindful of existing rights but recognizing conditions and mankind's gradual progress, is idealistic and forward-looking. It avoids alike ultra-conservatism and ultra-radicalism.

"Reaction and progress must fight it out again in the Republican party in the coming presidential primaries."

He declared that the philosophy of government which obtains at Washington does not fit present day needs, ultra-conservatism ruling there.

"Not only is there the fundamental and irreconcilable difference in our domestic politics but a like divergence, perhaps even of greater importance, in relation to our foreign affairs," he said.

"Our timid, vacillating and contradictory positions demand that America's foreign policy again be decided by the whole people who must themselves, at whatever cost, maintain it. This time the decision should be so clear so definite and certain that no casuistry, no specious plea, no indirection can distort it."

Beyond the typewritten statement he handed newspapermen, Senator Johnson remained in Chicago today and will go to Washington tomorrow.

His announcement follows: "Theoretically, under our system, the people themselves select their president. Those states with presidential preference primaries not only recognize this theory but put it in practice. They preserve the spirit as well as the letter of American institutions. It is an American's birthright to submit himself and his political tenets to the decision of his fellow citizens. He is entitled to their decision and they are entitled to make it. I recognize no prescriptive right to office; and I deny that any one or any number of men may disregard the popular will, and in defiance of it dictate our candidates. Peculiarly should this be so at the present time."

"There is discontent abroad in the land; there is threatened disintegration of the Republican party. The discontent and party difficulties arise not because of government but for the lack of it. Two warring philosophies of government in the nation just as in the state from which I come, struggle for mastery. Designate them as you will the contest between them is age-old. The only ultra-conservative, materialistic, stolidly and stubbornly resisting any change and vigorously contesting every human advance, avoids any ultra-radicalism. The other mindful of existing rights, but recognizing conditions and mankind's gradual progress, is idealistic and forward-looking. It avoids alike ultra-conservatism and ultra-radicalism. It's the old, old struggle beginning in the early days of man's first achievements and never ending since.

"Reaction and progress must fight it out again in the Republican party in the coming presidential primaries. I question not men now, but their philosophy of government. That which obtains at Washington does not fit present day needs. Ultra-conservatism there rules; progressivism challenges it. And the ensuing contest will determine whether the Republican party shall be the permanent instrument of reaction or whether it shall respond to present day conditions and aspirations. We would have a revitalized Republican party, a party representing alone its rank and file, the instrument neither of static reaction nor destructive radicalism. Only such a party with the broad understanding vision and human sympathy of progressivism can solve our pressing domestic problems."

"Not only is there the fundamental and irreconcilable differences in our domestic politics but a like divergence, perhaps even of greater importance, in relation to our foreign affairs. A foreign policy once entered upon may with difficulty be changed. One false move may do what years can not undo."

"The whole future of national existence may be endangered by the ill-considered act of a day. I am against the league of nations and all its subsidiaries, membership in which would tend to participation, directly or indirectly in the league. To take us into the league court or to involve us in its political struggles abroad, inevitably will draw us into the European maelstrom from which we fondly imagined the election of 1920 had delivered us."

"Of course we would always promote peace and endeavor to prevent war. We would help Europe in an rational way. We would continue to alleviate suffering, clothe the naked, feed the hungry, but we would ever be the sole judge of our actions, the arbiters of our own destiny. Our country, the greatest on earth should have its own foreign policy, thoroughly understood by our people, frankly proclaimed."

"Preserve our country as it is, we preserve the world's greatest asset, civilization's highest promise. Our timid, vacillating and contradictory positions demand that America's foreign policy again be decided by the whole people who must themselves, at whatever cost, maintain it. This time the decision should be so clear so definite and certain that no casuistry, no specious plea, no indirection can distort it."

"Upon these as fundamentals, amplifying and expressing details hereafter, to the men and women who constitute America's free citizenship, I will make my appeal. In every state the contest will be waged. In those states where the voters may express their preference the issue can be definitely decided; and, I hope, all candidates will participate in the presidential preference primaries, including California, and cheerfully acquiesce in its result. No man who aspires to the highest office in the gift of the American people should shrink from a verdict by those he seeks to serve; and equally, none is entitled to the presidency whom the people do not want."

Mr. McAdoo left Omaha late yesterday for his home on the Pacific coast. Mr. Rockwell's statement formal announcement of his candidacy to Mr. McAdoo, but says candidates in forty states will bring him into the race.

"Mr. Rockwell has stated the situation accurately," said Mr. McAdoo.

Charter Revisers Expect to Finish Work Next Week

ter revisers might be set at naught through the action of the assemblyman who would be asked to introduce the amended charter before the state House as a bill and who would have the privilege to amend the document to meet the views of his constituency as he saw fit.

While there was discussion of the election of the superintendent of utilities and the referendum only one or two members were heard on the subject and there was not sufficient oral expression to gauge the sentiment of the commission as a whole. A construction by the commission of its scope of action is destined to play an important part in these decisions, however. Whether the commission is simply empowered, under the council resolution providing for its appointment, to re-write the charter or whether it has free rein to upset municipal government policies already pre-determined by the voters in the election two years ago, and to change entirely the general councilmanic form remains to be determined. Thus far the commission has studiously sought to avoid any political impingement in its labors and has concerned itself in providing the city with a fundamentally sound and business-like charter under which the city could be administered in the most satisfactory way.

Matters now remaining to be acted upon before all of the suggestions submitted have been dealt with are the referendum, the election of the superintendent of utilities, the tax ordinance and the question of providing a commission for the administration of the public utilities. When these matters have been dealt with the charter amendments and deletions will be turned over to the city attorney to be prepared in final shape and a final meeting will have to be held to adopt the charter as a whole. It seems now that the charter will be ready for presentation to the January session of the General Assembly provided it is finally approved by the council or the people.

Commissioner of Revenue P. C. Ragland appeared before the commission to explain amendments to the ordinance which he had submitted in written form. One of his suggestions was that power be given the commissioner to impose a head tax on an incoming resident upon taking up residence here and another was the granting of power to the commissioner to place a double assessment for the city on delinquents with the power to levy. Mr. Ragland said that he sought to have the same power given him as is given to the State officers in collecting assessments from those who evade payment. In the ordinance dealing with the tax on vehicles Mr. Ragland moved to strike out the words "for hire" and there was another amendment tending to clarify the language of the act providing assessments on various businesses. The whole trend of these suggestions was to give the commissioner additional power. Attorneys who are members of the commission sensed a certain danger in rewriting these provisions, some of which have already been construed by the courts. They deemed it imprudent to alter the wording of the charter in this particular since the new clauses might be subject to construction and result in legal controversy. There was some discussion over the first section of the charter tax provisions in which the tax rate is set at $1.50 whereas in reality it is $1.75. Commissioner Harris moved finally that a saving clause be added empowering the city council to lay and collect further taxes on all property as is or may be authorized by the State law. Action on this was ordered to lie over.

Commissioner Brown, offered amendment to the clause bearing on the poll tax including a provision authorizing the collection of a tax of one dollar instead of 50 cents from males and females residing in the city on February 1st in each year who is over 21 years of age. This is to be voted on at the next meeting.

When the question of electing city technical officials by the council instead of by the people—Mr. Talbott's office being the one in issue—Judge Brown was heard on the subject in executive session and following his remarks Judge D. P. Withers moved that in the absence of a full session action on this question be passed by. It was during this discussion that the threat to "kill" the charter in the legislature was communicated to the commissioners.

W. R. Mitchell's suggestion that the commission write a provision in the charter calling for re-establishment of the six wards was brought up next. Judge Withers went on record that the people of the city had determined in the last election that they were against the ward plan and that this had been manifest in the result of the election (184 voters cast ballots revealed that the complaint voiced for the ward system and 1243 voted for the single council plan).

Commissioner Harris then made a motion which was seconded by Judge Withers that the commission go on record as opposed to any change with reference to the election of the wards as units. When this was put to a vote all of the commissioners with the exception of Mr. Marshall voted affirmatively, the latter voting negatively.

Commissioner Marshall went on record last night as opposed to the method of the commission in passing by some of the suggestions offered without explanation while in others reasons for negative action were recorded on the minutes.

Mr. Marshall served notice that he intended to bring up the ward question which he did, but the commission as a whole showed no disposition to recommend a reversion to that system. According to Mr. Marshall's view he does not think that the commission is subject to limitations in revising the charter and that it has the right to make any changes it sees fit. In referring to the ward plan which he favors, Mr. Marshall declared that at the last council election it was understood that the ward lines were to be followed that in the choice of councilmen each section of the council be given representation. He said that there was an apprehension that this plan is not to be carried out. Both Judge Withers and Mr. Harris registered disapproval of the ward plan.

Several of Mr. Talbott's suggestions were taken up last night. The commission felt that the council is already empowered under the ordinance to provide for a building code and a city planning commission without including a provision in the charter. The municipal ownership of the street car service was passed by as was the suggestion for tax assessment to build sewers and sidewalks. The referendum proposal was passed by.

The commission in dealing with Councilman Town's suggestion that the fee system for eliminating weeds on record negatively Commissioner Harris moving that no action be taken on the fee question because since the city fees are under direct control of the council and that state fees are governed by the general statutes. The commission held it was not within its province to change the general state statutes. Discussion of this subject revealed that the complaint voiced recently by Lee A. Wilson relative to fees in the police court could not be remedied by the city.

The commission's final action in night was to vote on the suggestion made by W. R. Mitchell that only citizens be elected to hold office in the city. This was done after the explanation had been made that the matter was already controlled by ordinance.

House of Bishops End Conference

(By The Associated Press.)

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 16.—Having disposed of a number of matters important to the Protestant Episcopal church, U. S. A. at a two day session here, members of the House of Bishops are returning to their dioceses in various parts of the United States and in foreign fields. Entrance of the United States into the League of Nations or immediate steps by this country to organize "some other effective association or council of nations for the purpose of settling amicably international disputes and thus save us from the great danger of another world war" was advocated in a resolution adopted at the concluding session yesterday. Copies are to be sent to President Coolidge, Secretary of State Hughes and the chairman of the Senate Committee on foreign affairs.

Reduced Rates Bring Freight Bill Down

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Because of reduction in railroad rates inaugurated since 1921, the freight bill of the American public was $431,000,000 less during the first eight months of the present year than it would have been if the rate levels had remained unchanged, according to statistical compilations made today by the Bureau of Railway Economics. The bureau also declared that rates remained unchanged from the levels of 1922, which were lower than those of 1921 in a number of particulars, the freight bills of the country for the first eight months of 1922 would have been $282,750,000 greater than it actually was.

The youngster on the left probably did not like the foster parents who picked him out in the Los Angeles court above, where persons wishing to adopt homeless children present their petitions and qualifications. It is one court in the world, however, where 99 and 44-100 per cent. of those who visit it go away happy.

Textile Concerns Are Slowing Up

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Nov. 15.—The recent drop in certain textile securities has led many investors to believe that unseen factors were at work within the industry. Roger W. Babson's analysis summarized in a statement issued today partly well accounts for the development.

"Conditions in both the cotton goods and worsted and woolen goods industries are irregular and unsettled," says the statistician. "The fundamental reason for this is largely the fact that prices of these goods are relatively much higher than most other kinds of articles. When business men in any line feel that the price structure is beginning to get top-heavy, there is likely to be considerable caution exercised regarding the purchase of raw materials, the manufacture of these high-priced materials into finished goods and the buying of goods for retail distribution. This is the case now in both cotton goods and worsted and woolen goods, especially men's wear lines. Curtailment of production is in progress.

The cotton industry began the fall with a fairly good supply of orders taken during the late summer. Production was good during September, especially among Southern mills. During October, however, a tendency to increase the price of cotton goods with resistance on the part of buyers. As a result, many mills in both the North and South are going on part time.

"Whether or not the recent government report, wherein this year's cotton crop is estimated about 10,250,000 bales as compared with an average of 9,300,000 during the previous three years, and in free buying of cotton goods, time alone will show. There is much evidence presented to show that the American and the world's supply of cotton is very low compared to the need for cotton goods. Buyers, however, argue that conditions are no worse than a year ago, that consumption is declining and that 30 cent cotton fully discounts all the benefits of cotton. Nevertheless, sellers of cotton insist that there can be no question of a shortage and that demand far exceeds supply and that the only reasonable development is for cotton prices to advance.

"The present situation favors low-cost concerns. There are mostly located in the South. Statistics show that Southern mills usually work much more steadily than Northern mills.

"The wool situation is not quite so tense as cotton. There is no acute shortage of wool, and the price trend has been recently downward. The chief difficulty at present seems to have arisen by reason of an attempt last summer to name high prices on men's spring wear lines. Considerable sales resistance, but few orders are reported. Another reason for the slow movement of woolen goods is the fact that clothing entered this market fairly heavy stocks carried over from a year ago. There is consequently less reason for purchases than last year. In addition to these facts, general business as reflected in the Babson chart is now about 15 percent below normal.

"Women's wear, especially novelties, are, however, apparently meeting with more success than men's lines are, however, apparently seem to be operating on better schedules than those making men's wear.

"Turning to the securities representing the textile industries," Mr. Babson continues, "the listed textile stocks are few in number. American Woolen, Consolidated Textile, and the two silk issues, Millington and Kayser, come first to mind in this connection. By far the majority of the New England mill issues employ only a local or over-the-counter market. The trend seems to have been the same for all kinds, however, since the general market started its recovery last March these have offered little resistance to the trend and are today holding only about midway between the lows of 1921 and the highs of 1929.

"In one or two specific instances, notably American Woolen, 1921 lows have been practically realized. The shrinking margin of profit and gradual decline in capacity operations of which the Amoskeag closing is the most striking case, may be held accountable for this decline in stock prices. Many other lines of business have been subject to the same influences.

"For the future, there is no assurance of any broad advancing tendency while general business and stocks are rounding out the balance of the decline begun last spring. To be sure, this may not mean material recovery levels in the stock market, until the demand has spent its force and a broad advance for purchase of any specific groups. The chances involved in trying to work against the trend are too great. Textiles will probably be a profitable purchase when cotton and other commodities stabilized a useful high give some assurance of being maintained and when the fear of increased competition from abroad has been either fully realized or dissipated. But that time is not the present.

"When the time does come to buy there should be included in one's portfolio which has diversified their business thru locating in both the North and South. Further, the woolen, silk, and cotton goods would all be included in order to have a truly representative list."

OH, GURRLS! SIR HARRY POWDERS, TOO—

By JACK JUNGMEYER

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 15.—The most distinguished and capable itinerant housewife in the world is Lady Annie Lauder, wife of Sir Harry.

Now in the twentieth tour with her famous "Scotch Laddie" husband, and the third globe-circling trip, she boasts of having temporarily converted into a home ships' cabins, Pullman compartments and hotel suites in nearly every important city on the map.

Wherever her distinguished spouse parks his crooked stick and tam, there, thanks to Lady Lauder's versatility from any wanderings, he finds comfort, echoes of the big house of Dunoon on the Clyde.

"Being a wife," she asserts in vigorous Scotch, "doesn't mean joost presiding over a man's home. It is Sir Harry's business to travel, and so I travel with him. We make it a point to have at least a semblance of our domestic life wherever we go. It doesn't take long to put a Scotch atmosphere into any lodgings."

Knits His Socks.
Smilingly alert, high color on her cheek, hazel eyes shining whimsically, she was knitting a pair of socks to go with Sir Harry's gay knitties, having preceded her husband to a Los Angeles hotel.

"I tend 'em joost ferrom time to time," she chuckled. "Yes—I'm auld fashioned. If a woman wants her husband to get on then she must give him all her time."

"In Scotland we gurrls look up to our fathers and brothers first, and when we marry, of course we look up to the big, strong fellow our husband is."

"The modern woman—ah, you have me now! I don't know what's best for her. Perhaps the trouble is that she's all take and no give. 'My family and his were shocked,' she said, 'when Harry proposed giving up an honest, brawny man's life as a miner to go singing. They thought the devil had taken him.' Then her reminiscences swung to his wooing.

Childhood Romance.
"He'd liked me since I was a gurrl of 14. To me he dedicated his songs 'Roamin' Through the Gloamin' and 'Bonnie Wee Annie.'
"Don't think I'm takin' credit for his success—he'd made good anyhow, but maybe he'd not be singing at all if he hadn't been throost into the cold world as a lad of 12, with his father dead and six wee brothers and sisters to think about.

"That's what sent him up to my country, to the mines, to develop a brawny boy's lungs. Then he got to singing—and the world knows the rest."

"In those days Harry's stage clothes were varry poor. But to-day the big, strong fellow has the best money can buy, and—" she laughed—"I wish he were as immaculate at home and when we go walking as he is on the stage."

And Lady Lauder went on sauntering.

CHILD WARNS U. S. AGAINST WORDS PROPAGANDISTS

(By The Associated Press.)

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 15.—Richard Washburn Child, United States ambassador to Italy, warned the people of the United States against utterances of foreign propagandists in a statement published in the Worcester Evening Post, today.

Ambassador Child mentioned names but said: "We ought to feel a sense of security and pride in the fact that as a nation we can afford to listen to the propaganda of foreign propagandists who come to the United States and tell us what we ought to do in our foreign affairs."

"Probably no country in the world would be as tolerant as we are of advice coming from abroad as to the line of conduct our president and our secretary of state should follow. I strongly suspect that if we were to certain countries in Europe we would be sent a list of steamship sailings. Perhaps it is a fine thing that we are so eager to listen to every one and to extend our hospitality so generously."

"But we must be carefully to identify the sources of our information and not rush too hastily to the conclusions that foreign influences present. Certain countries may attempt to fill the United States with spoken and written propaganda. We ought to remember that this propaganda might cause rows in our own household between various racial elements in our population."

CHICAGO - NEW YORK

MARYLAND WILL PLAY WOLFPACK ON SATURDAY

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 13.—Maryland University, conqueror of Pennsylvania and Carolina, the same team that scored two touchdowns the past week end on Yale and held Old Eli to a 16 to 14 score, will come to Riddick Field Saturday, November 17, for its annual engagement with the Wolfpack of North Carolina State. The game is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the season.

"Curley" Byrd, Maryland mentor, has one of the greatest teams this fall in the history of the institution, and in halfback Groves he has a youngster who is a "triple threat" man equal to the best in this section. Against Pennsylvania Groves kicked a field goal for the only score of the game, giving Maryland a 3 to 0 victory, and he scored both touchdowns against Yale last Saturday. The same player was responsible for the 7 to 6 defeat handed to Sate here last Thanksgiving Day when he intercepted a forward pass and ran for a touchdown and then added the extra point for the margin of victory with a field goal.

Maryland defeated Carolina 14 to 0 after the Tar Heels had won from the Wolfpack by the same score. The team slumped badly in its next engagement and lost to Virginia Polytech, 16 to 7. In this game each team scored a touchdown, but Don Rutherford added nine points to the V. P. I. total with three field goals shot between the uprights from beyond the 40-yard line.

The Tech squad came through the hard V. P. I. encounter in good shape except for minor injuries. Captain Postian, in spite of previous injuries, played through three periods of the game, but was forced out in the last quarter with an injured shoulder. The extent of this new injury had not been determined on Monday, but it is expected that the leader, one of the nicest fangs in the Pack, will be in shape for Maryland next Saturday.

Every man on the squad who got in the game with the Gobblers from Blacksburg realizes that he was in a football game and there is a regular epidemic of cuts and bruises. "Foots" Beasley, who substituted at guard for Cleve Deatty when the latter went to center in place of Postian, had his left eye entirely closed when he received a kick in the face. "Slim" Logan, right tackle, has a cut on the head that required several stitches to close.

Little Change In Ruhr Situation

DUESSELDORF, Nov. 15.—The significant facts stand out from the mass of rumors and speculation current in the Rhineland. The first is the apparently hopeless deadlock of the negotiations between the French economic mission and the Ruhr industrialists. The second is that notice of dismissal has been served upon all the mine office staffs by the mine owners' association for November 30 on the ground that failure of the negotiations will force the French to remove all hope of a possible operation. The third is the decision reached at a meeting at Cologne of the financial representatives of the municipal centers in the occupied territory that, since Berlin announces it will give no further help, no further taxes or other revenues will be paid to the Reich treasury from the Rhineland.

The situation arising from these premises is regarded as forbidding both to the French and Germans. Unemployment is beginning to have its usual effects: there are an increased number of beggars, unemployment parades and night meetings accompanied by pillaging. Both French and German authorities realize something drastic must be done to prevent the country from falling into utter disorder, but neither side has shown any sign of making the first move.

The French officials are keeping their own counsel, but it is hinted in unofficial quarters that in the future the French will ignore the industrialists and try to negotiate directly with the workers, with the object of inducing them to co-operate with the French in carrying on the industries, which might in that case be confiscated, on the ground of the owners' obstinate rejection of the French proposals.

The decision of the Cologne meeting to suspend contributions to the Reich was taken because in the general view at Cologne the Rhineland has definitely parted from the rest of Germany.

CHICAGO IS ELECTED

PARIS BLAMES MR. GEORGE AND U. S. FOR UNREST

By HENRY WALES
(By Chicago Tribune Service)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—David Lloyd George, former prime minister of Great Britain and the United States are blamed principally for the world unrest and the German situation by most of the newspapers here publishing a review of the situation five years after the Armistice today.

The anti government organs attack Premier Poincare bitterly for his policies resulting in isolating France, and even hitherto supporters of the present cabinet are beginning to indicate that the government must adopt a more constructive and elastic policy to achieve something.

Trusted mouthpieces of O'Quat D'Orsay insist that Secretary of State Hughes smashed the committee of experts project, but independent organs ask where the present French policies are leading to and criticize the indecision, procrastination and general "wait and see" tactics.

A few left newspapers begin to show anxiety over rumors that Great Britain and the United States soon will apply pressure on France to accede to their ideas through asking that the war debt be funded like Prime Minister Baldwin's mission, but the big newspapers ignore this entirely.

A new evening newspaper, the Internationale, prints an article called "The Results of Victory," recounting first, the crown prince's return to Germany, second, capitalist France is in trouble with all the allies, third the occupation of the Ruhr has arrested all reparations payments, fourth, the state has 400,000,000 francs ($25,000,000,000), in debts and an annual deficit of 30,000,000,000 francs ($1,500,000,000), and fifth, after the last of all wars France has 7,000,000 men under arms.

TOBACCO SALES HEAVY

WILSON, Nov. 15.—Sales have been heavy all the week and by including today's sale the market will have sold over 40 million pounds since the opening. Prices have held firm and there are no signs of tobacco getting any cheaper; in fact, it is higher now than it was two weeks ago on practically every grade on sale.

The quality of the crop has not improved very much and we look for heavy sales from now until the end of the season. We expect sales to drop off after Thanksgiving as practically 90 per cent. of the crop will be sold by then. We now estimate Wilson will sell as much as 60 million pounds of tobacco this season.

Sales This Week

COUE TO LEAVE U. S. JANUARY 12

(By Chicago Tribune Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Emil Coue, noted exponent of healing by auto suggestion, whose first visit to this country was an event on national importance, will return January 12, according to an announcement today by Captain J. Stewart Rogerson, director of the National Coue Institute here. M. Coue will lecture and hold clinics under the supervision of the institute, which numbers many wealthy persons in its membership.

Demand from more than a score of cities in this country have been received, in which those interested ask that M. Coue lecture and hold clinics in these places during his second visit.

In advices from Coue the physician relates the growth of his clinics in Holland, Belgium and France.

"The Maharajah of India came and remained a week in Nancy to follow the seasons," Coue reported. "He insisted that I accompany him to India, but I had to refuse, for the time being, anyhow."

BURLEY POOL TO CLOSE ITS BOOKS DECEMBER FIRST

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 15.—Books of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association will close for the 1923 crop December 1st. It was decided unanimously at the final session of the board for its November meeting late Wednesday night. Up to December 1, every grower not now in the Association not only will be given every opportunity to join, but a concerted effort will be made by members to get their neighbors into the association. After that date, however, no new contracts will be received by the association.

This action was decided upon as fair not only to the members now in the association, but as giving the outsiders every possible chance to take advantage of the benefits of the co-operative plan of selling. Reports of the field service division showed 93,400 growers already in the association and, according to the reports of field service, men and directors, those still on the outside are, in the main, new growers.

Arrangements for the receiving of the 1923 crop were approved by the board and the association will be ready to receive the tobacco when the actual date of opening is announced. This probably will be about December 10th, it was said.

Good-Bye, Jawn

BIG TASK AHEAD FOR FRANK CHANCE

By BILLY EVANS

Is Frank Chance a great manager? Did he deserve the title of "peerless leader" conferred on him when he was making baseball history with the famous Chicago Cubs?

Will he make the Chicago White Sox a factor in the American League? These and scores of other similar questions have been hurled at the manager since the announcement was made that Frank Chance was to succeed Kid Gleason as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Before going further into the question of "peerless leader," I want to say that I keenly regret the passing of Kid Gleason from the ranks of the American League.

Kid Gleason was a most capable leader. Until this year he did mightily well with the White Sox. The failure of the Sox this year was just one of those things that happen every now and then in baseball. The Sox are not a seventh place ball club. That is where the team finished in 1923, but the fault was not Gleason's.

Manager Must Have Help

Frank Chance is a great manager, but a great manager alone cannot win ball games. The manager can direct the play but the men on the field must put into execution his plan of battle.

John McGraw was a "master mind" in 1921 and 1922 when the Giants ran rough-shod over the Yankees in the world series. McGraw was pictured as directing every ball pitched. Perhaps he did. His judgment was excellent and the pitchers on his staff were able to carry on his orders perfectly.

That year McGraw did just as much thinking and just as much directing but his pitching staff failed to respond. The master mind collapsed when the pitching slumped.

When Big Will Cubs

Chance certainly did deserve the title of "peerless leader" when he led the Chicago Cubs to three National League pennants and two world series. He had a great team and got every ounce of strength out of his combination. Chance deserved the title. His team helped him earn it.

In the White Sox, Chance gets a pretty fair ball club—much better than a seventh place aggregation. It's a certainty that his club will finish several notches better than that next year. It may not win a pennant but it's going to make considerable trouble.

Strong for Discipline

The policy of Chance differs much from that of Gleason. Chance is a strict disciplinarian. He insists that every man keep in condition and give his best efforts. We to the player who fails.

MANAGER FRANK CHANCE IN A WHITE SOX UNIFORM AND AS HE LOOKED IN 1911 WHEN MANAGING AND PLAYING FIRST BASE FOR THE CHICAGO CUBS.

SOCIAL LIFE IN THE COUNTRY IS BASED ON SOUP

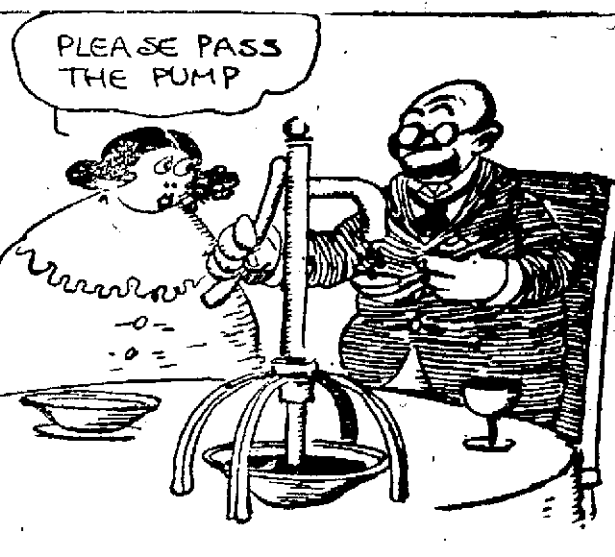

By Ruben Goldberg

THIS COUNTRY IS DIVIDED INTO TWO GREAT CLASSES - THOSE THAT TIP THEIR SOUP PLATES TOWARDS THEM AND -

THOSE THAT TIP THEIR SOUP PLATES AWAY FROM THEM - TO WHICH CLASS DO YOU BELONG, THE GURGLERS OR THE SIPPER?

A PORTABLE PUMP AT THE TABLE WOULD HELP YOU AVOID THE EMBARRASSMENT OF TIPPING OFF YOUR SOCIAL STANDING BY LIFTING YOUR SOUP PLATE.

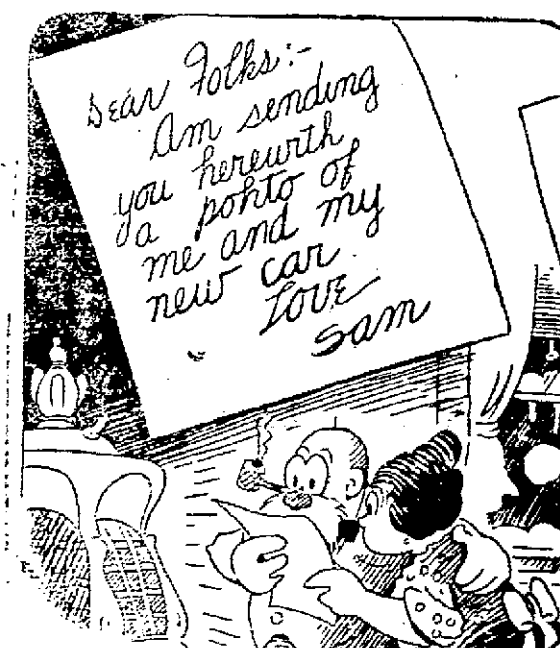

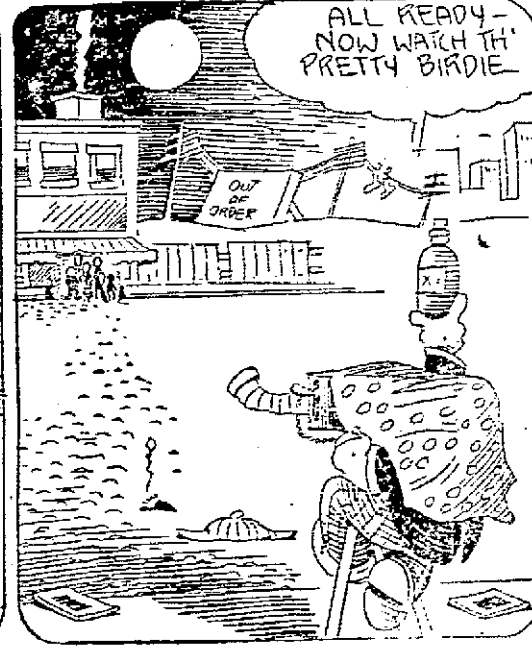

A TABLE BUILT LIKE THIS MIGHT MAKE SOUP-EATING MORE OF A PLEASURE AND LESS OF A PROBLEM IN JUGGLING.

Danville, Va., Nov. 8, 1923.

Mrs. J. F. Miller, 555 1/2 Claiborne St., Danville, Va., says for thirteen years or more I have been suffering with extreme weakness in my back and stomach. I have had thirteen different Medical Doctors from the first of January up until the first of August. I had two Doctors attending me. My Doctor's bill was Sixty dollars or more. The last hope, I heard of an herb Doctor that gave an herb treatment guaranteeing his herb medicine to do good. I thought I had the T. B. I had a cough for thirteen years. When made me think so. My husband went to see this herb Doctor and bought me a treatment for Five Dollars and ninety-five cents. This one treatment did me more good than all the medicine I have taken in thirteen years. I am much stronger, fatter and have a good appetite.

Dr. Yarborough's wonderful herb tonic has done it all for many years. I have been suffering with the rheumatism in my feet and legs. I were electrical pads in my shoes. They helped me some but drove the misery up into my hips and other parts of my body. This Bland Herb Doctor gave me a bottle of this Bland Herb Doctor's tonic. It has carried the pains out of my arms and shoulders and his herb tonic has given me a better appetite.

"Mr. J. F. Miller says I am cured by Yarborough's Herb Tonic has made me wife what she is today. That thing he may be no other medicine has done what herb tonic has done for me."

New Baltic States Prosper, But Fear Goblin of the East

RIGA, Nov. 15.—The three new Baltic republics like peaceful cases between troubled Germany and Soviet Russia, but, foreign observers in their capitals say, are as yet far from sanguine as to their future.

Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, from all surface indications, have passed through various crises common to infantile states, and are just children in the family of nations. But each of these baby nations still is haunted by the specter of a goblin named "Russia," who some day may "eat" it up like the giant in Jack and the Beanstalk.

Just now, according to American and other foreign observers at Riga, Reval and Kovno, who base their belief upon first-hand information from Moscow, Soviet Russia has no desire for the trouble and war that aggression against these states would mean. In fact some of the more optimistic Russian leaders predict that within a decade or so, the Baltic provinces will willingly join the union of Soviet Socialist republics as autonomous states.

Of the three states, Latvia perhaps is at the present the most prosperous. Her imports were only slightly above her exports in value last year, and this year it is hoped that the trade balance will be in her favor. Her currency, too, is stable, and the government recently informed the American minister to the Baltic States, that Latvia would like to negotiate for the funding of her five million dollar debt to the United States.

Latvia's dairy product export is constantly growing, and the country has ambitions to rival Denmark in this respect. Riga, once a great industrial city, is still far from having recovered the factories she lost when machinery was evacuated into Russia during the war. The Soviet government promised to return it, but, through neglect or inability to find her machinery, has sent only a small proportion back to Riga.

Lithuania, being mainly agricultural, and previously dependent upon Germany for manufactured articles and financial support, and having had prolonged troubles over Vilna and Memel with the Poles, has not reached the obvious prosperity of her northern neighbor. But it is moving ahead. Lithuania's relations with Soviet Russia may be said to be more cordial than those of her sister states. Estonia, which probably grows more potatoes to the square mile than Ireland ever dreamed of turning most of them into alcohol and her spirit industry is thriving. In fact, she is the Bahamas of the Baltic with dry

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Babson made a speech last night in which he tries to convince the business men that things are pretty bad. So you better be careful. All these dividends that are now being declared must be phony, and some one must be juggling the figures of railroad traffic because how can you have a million cars of freight every week when Babson says business is poor? And the great man who is president of the Calumet and Hecla evidently doesn't know what he is talking about when he says the copper business is pretty good. A short time ago he told the American manufacturers to shut up their factories in order to reduce wages. They tried that scheme in the Ruhr in order to reduce reparations. That is the place for Mr. Babson because they need a genius down there to get them out of a mess. It took Babson four months to discover that the bull market was over. I wonder how many months it will take him to discover that the bear market is over.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—Private ginning figures of $3,500,000 bales as the output to the 14th of November, indicating a crop of only 9,200,000 bales were responsible for a wild rise in the price of cotton in the opening today. In the first few minutes of trading the active months rose 39 to 75 points to 34 cents a pound for December. The rise began in Liverpool where the private report on ginning was known first and the strength of Liverpool created all manner of excitement here before the opening.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Yesterday around the 34 cent level, offerings were large and the demand small. Indications were that this rally had spent itself. Believe there is a weak long interest that has been created in the last few days and think that investors will have to be liquidated before it will be safe to make purchases.

Another Hold-Up Yesterday in N. Y. Spurs On Police

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—While police and the district attorney's office joined today in a campaign to drive bandits from the city, another daring hold up was added to the list capped yesterday by the shooting of two bank messengers in a $42,607 payroll robbery. The latest holdup occurred this afternoon when two armed bandits followed a depositor from the Garfield Bank at Fifth avenue and 23rd street, forced him to get into his own automobile and drive two blocks to Seventh avenue, and then ordered him to remain in his automobile while they fled with $700 he had just withdrawn.

A round up of street loiterers, suspected criminals and known gunmen was planned by the authorities in an effort to check a pre-holiday wave of crime which since Monday has cost three lives and loss of $66,000 in six holdups.

District Attorney Dodd in Brooklyn announced he would call for an immediate conference with police officials to arrange for a roundup of all known criminals and of all men who are known to have been idle for a month or more.

Started into action by the brazen holdup yesterday when two men in broad daylight shot and killed two messengers of the West End Bank and escaped with $43,000, insurance company officials called for improvement of methods of money deliveries through New York streets.

Police, seeking the highwaymen discovered that bandits responsible for the reign of terror were attempting to check discovery of their movements by counterfeiting motor car license plates and by counterfeiting birth certificates in order to get licenses to drive taxicabs and other motor cars. A thorough investigation into licensing conditions would be made, it was said.

Working on the Brooklyn case, police said there has been two tangible developments—discovery of an eyewitness of the getaway, Harry Beck, a mechanic who said he would be able to identify the murderers, and the finding of beads from a woman's dress in the motor car used and later abandoned by the bandits.

NEW YORK COTTON (By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—There was active general buying in the cotton market at the opening today and prices made new high records for the season on higher Liverpool cables and bullish private crop and spinning figures. The latter indicated a spinning of 3,268,000 bales to November 14 and pointed to a crop of 5,320,000 bales or very nearly a million bales less than the official forecast as of October 25. Private cables said this had been partly responsible for the advance in Liverpool which also was influenced by a stronger market for Egyptian cotton. The local market opened strong at an advance of 25 to 66 points with December selling up to $4.60, January to $2.72.

Bishop Pleads For Recognition Of Soviet Russia

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Renewing his plea for recognition of the Russian soviet government and financial aid for its church, the Greek Orthodox Catholic Bishop Edgar Blake of Paris today appeared before the Methodist Episcopal Board of Bishops and told what had influenced him to become "not a bolshevik nor a reactionary, but a little of each, thank God."

Authorized by the board to accompany a mission of investigators into Russia last May Bishop Blake was recalled after he had attended the all-Russian Ecclesiastical conference of the soviet church, and there had pledged himself with Bishop John L. Nuelson, of the Zurich area to raise $31,000 for the education of the Greek Catholic clergy.

He appeared before the board today to describe Russia as he had found it and ended with a plea that the Methodist Episcopal Church contribute as an organization to the fund he had pledged with Bishop Nuelson as an individual.

At the close of his address, the bishops, in semi-annual conference, discussed for several hours the problem Bishop Blake had raised. He
